The legend lives on:
More innovative. More dynamic.
More exclusive.

Perhaps it's these very qualities which have made us one of the most successful motorsport teams and one of the leading BMW tuners in the world. The Schnitzer Team, successful in motorsport with BMW for over 30 years.

The AC Schnitzer front skirt (bottom) not only gives the 6-series a more dynamic look but also helps its engine "breathe more freely" and increases the cooling effect at the front brakes.

The apparently endless years of waiting are over. The legendary BMW coupé's of the 80s – connoisseurs know them as Grand-Tourismo – are enjoying a renaissance. The new BMW 6-series coupé is here. More innovative, dynamic and exclusive than ever.

Such an automotive legend leaves scarcely any room for further improvement, extra innovations and more exclusivity. Not true. The development engineers and designers at AC Schnitzer have proved just the opposite with the ACS6. The better the starting basis, the greater the chance of creating a truly perfect car.

Admittedly, we at AC Schnitzer have a dynamic-exclusive idea of automotive perfection. This is reflected in every AC Schnitzer product down to the smallest detail. And we have remained true to this philosophy with the new ACS6 coupé and cabrio.

Seduction of the Senses.

Exclusive and dynamic enhancement begins with the technical and visual pivotal point of the car: the wheels.

So AC Schnitzer has adapted a whole range of attractive wheel and tyre combinations. Alloy and racing rims are available in three modern design variants. The Type III rim offers an innovative five-pointed star made of alloy which can be given an open or closed appearance by the use of interchangeable design elements.

Type III is followed by Type IV: This modern interpretation of the classic five-spoke wheel enables you to set an avant-garde tone. The star extends from a pentagonal centre through subtly contoured spokes to a dynamic, striking rim design. This exclusive wheel is available for the 6-series not only in 19" and 20" but also in a top version as a racing rim in 21".

The AC Schnitzer sports suspension specially developed for the 6-series is a perfect complement to these high tech wheels. Renowned amongst the initiated, not only does it lower the vehicle by around 25 mm but it also significantly improves the handling with no loss of the legendary ride comfort of the standard model.

The sports suspension by AC Schnitzer specially developed for each model improves driving dynamics and increases safety reserves (top picture). AC Schnitzer alloy and racing rims are available for the 6-series in three design variants: Type II 19" (not shown), Type III 18", 19" and 20" (bottom left) and Type IV (bottom right) in sizes 19", 20" and 21".

Systematic aerodynamics in harmony with exclusive sophistication.

Attention to every detail. Material, finish and fit fulfil the stringent requirements of the manufacturer in every respect, and the optional Chromeline Set provides further highlights.

How can an apparently perfect aerodynamic shape be improved? With the AC Schnitzer aerodynamic conversion, our bodywork designers have succeeded not only in improving the aerodynamic figures for the BMW 6-series. The aesthetic appearance has also been made more striking without detracting from its exclusive look.

Front spoiler, side skirt inserts, sports mirrors, rear spoiler and rear skirt draw the body lines perceptibly lower. With the Chromeline Set, elegant highlights can be subtly set at decisive points.

A further highlight from AC Schnitzer is the twin sports exhaust system. With its two chromed rear silencers in the Trap-Ment design, it not only optimises gas flow and response behaviour of the powerful V8 engine, but its unique sonorous note is music to the ears.

A feeling of exclusivity.

Once seated, you can be seduced by the exclusivity of the interior, both visually and sensually. Decisive details here increase the sensual experience of the exclusive ambience.

For example, the ergonomically shaped airbag sports steering wheel, the carbon interior trim in silver, the matching cover for the innovative "i-Drive" system and the numerous accessories of brushed aluminium. It's immediately clear to everyone: This is the authentic motorsport feeling at the highest level - made by AC Schnitzer.

But if all this is not exclusive enough for you, we will gladly develop innovative tailor-made solutions specially for your vehicle interior.

The exclusive side of motorsport: Aluminium and carbon - perfectly matched - combine in the ACS6 for maximum driving comfort with that authentic motorsport feeling.
